FOR SECOND COMMOUNAN. CHRISTOPHER, G. HANDY

Picking Bonaties.

Mr. Senator Clay, of Alabama, and some others of the Southern "chiyelry," are waxing very warm of late in favor of a re-peal of the Fishing Boulty act of Congress. It is all very well, in some folk's estimation to have a good amont toriff duty for the encouragement of Sugar, Tobacco, and other slave grown products of the "sunny South;" but the idea of doing any thing for the benefit of the brave and toil-worn fishermen of the New England States, is another affair altogether.

There are, if we mistake not, some twelve or fifteen thousand men ordinarily engaged in the fisheries of this country, nearly all from the New England States. The government bounties are comething like an aggregate of $300,000-a very small sum, as compared with the millions of money annually spent to little or no useful purpose upon the army, navy, and the great drave of its party favorites, by the Administration. But this Three Hundred Thousand is a dreadful eye sore with the Alabama Clay and his fellows. The very thought of it galls them, night and day, and they can-not be reconciled to its continuance. If they do not succeed, before long, jo getting the fishing bounty abolished, we suppose they will "dissolve the Illians" That's a way the fire-exters have, of dirrying their points.

We know where the sline pinches, with our dearly beloved Southern brethren. The New England people unterly refuse to co-operate with them latthe extension of the delightful institution of Slavery. do not quite like the idea of seizing Culia, filibusterizing Nicaragus, and absorbing the whole of Mexico, for the purpose aforeboid. Nay, we found the Kansas English dose rather a tough one to swallow-only two New England Congressment managing to get it down. And then, we believe in free speech, and a free press, up this way which they do not, down in Carolina and Alabama. If we mistake not; Alabama is the land where they promised to hang Sen-ator Hale, of New Hampshire, to one of the tailest trees of the forest," if he would take the trouble to go down there or was

SENTENCE OF TUCKERMAN,-The New Haven correspondent of the Hartford Times gives the following more extended account of the sentence of Tuckerman:

"Fuckerman, the noted mail robber, who plead guilty before the U.S. District Court on Saturday, was this morally brought before Judge Charles C. Ingersett to receive his sentence. There were four counts against him, and he was sentenced on each court as follows: 1st count, ten years; 2d count, four years; 3d count, four years; 4th count, three years; making in all 21 years in the State Prison. Rather 'a long and hard row to hoe, and a dismal prospect for the future; but he stood up and received the sentence without fincling a particle; the sentence without finching a pacificle; indeed, he manifested no signs whatever of remores or regret is view of the utter ruin which, he had brought upon his own head, and the diagrace which he has heaped upon his estimable when and highly respectable family connections. MR. EDITOR :- Having heard from various sources, objections a vanged to the ideas presented in a former communication, (though I am gratified to know they have met with the approval of persons of reputed taste,) I hope you will allow me to review the principal ones advanced, and offer such explanations as occur to me Your readers will I am sure, excuse my trespais topon their time, when they consider of what great importance is the contemplaced movement, not only to those who expect to worship within the walls of the sacred edifice, when constructed, but a so to al who have the permanent interest of the city at heart, and whose appreciation of the beautiful in Art makes them true lovers of real advance in its domain.

I am reloiced that the existing sent. ment of reneration for the old church, has turned the current of popular feeling toward another site, so that all fear of having a permanent edifice placed in so unsaitable a position, may be dismissed.

The first question than is, what location shall be selected ? In my former communicarlon the vacant lot at the fact of Touro Park was auggested, and several objections have been offered to it-viz:

1. It a too far Eustword...

In answer I would call attention to the course taken by the congregation at the close of service on Sunday. Seven-cighths of it, on the average, pass to the Eastward, on leaving the church, and fully one halt go above the proposed site. This is even much more true in Summer, and in 50 years it is reasonable to suppose that the majority of church members will reside South, as well as Past of the proposed location. Such is evidently the present tendency of population.

That we may understand clearly how central freis; "I will state in round numbers that it is, distant from the present church 800 feet by the course of the streets; is 050 feet South, and 600 feet That of it, -and that a radius of 2000 feet from the centre of the lot, will include the Harkness Windmill," the residence of David Sears, Esq., the Ice House and Pond on Bath Road, the eslate of Andrew Robeson, Laq., intersect Spring street below Bowery street include the entire water part of the city from the "Newbort Steam Mill," to Long Wharf, the cetate of the late Capt. S. T. Northam, on Themes street phoye the Square, Liberty Square on Marlboro street, the residence Henry Bull, Esq., on Broad street, of Messrs, Calvert and fraid on Kay street; wind a mary of the lattand 2nd nearly fall of the 5th Wards, certainly more perfect 'centralization" could-not be wished for. parlicularly as the two extremes of the city, the let and 5th Warils, have each an Episconst parish church located in, or very nearthem.

2. The chancel could not be placed in the East.

In reply to this. I would simply say that nearly all the finest Phiscopal churches are built without regard to frontage. In Triulty" church, New York, the chancel is in the western extremity; in # St. George's' (old) in the North; in " Trinity," Boston, in the North; in the "Holy Trivity" Brooklyn, in the West; at Trinity Chapel N. Y. North Grace thurch, N. Y. North-east; St. George's (new) West; so that it can haidly be regarded as a matter of much importance, even in imagination.

But, I think even this difficulty can be overcome. "George street" which is now, and will always be to a great extent, worthless for purposes of transit, can be closed by the proprietors, having not yet we learn been accepted by the city, and presented to Trinity corporation. This would give them a lot 135 feet deep, facing 160 feet on the Park, and would be a great advantage to the city and Park, as well as to the church. The chancel could then be placed in the east, and the grand entrance, and spire be directly on the Park, the ferce of which This would give's large lot on each side of the church, affording ample room for entrances, on Mill and felhum streets, while the pedestrian portion of the congregation could pass directly into the Park. No finer site could be desired, than would thus be afforded.

The or wiferm shape has been objected to, on the ground that it is more suited for a Cathedral, than a l'arish church, and that buildings so constructed, are difficult to speak in

Let us have a stately, and graceful pile, harmonious in every part, that the return ing wanderer may from after welcome its lofty spire, and catch, the distant music of its pe i of bells, marking the prissing hours, ringing out the footfalls of Time, on the march to eternity.

And many a year hence, when we have passed away, and God's temple which we have raised with our hands, and by free more, it will stand on the soil we love, casting its broad unbroken/shade at evening to mingle with the flickering shadows of grand old elms, and the age-mellowed chimes will join with the singing birds of Heaven, to the membership of Plymouth Church. unite in precious harmony the perfections of Art, with the perfections of Nature.

Washington, Wednesday, May 5th. In the Senate, yesterday, a Resolution was adopted fixing the hour of meeting, on and after Monday the 10th inst, at 11'o'clock A. M. Mr. Brown introduced a new Police Bill for the District of Columbia .-This Bill simply provides that the District Ma rshall, in cases of necessity, may appoint deputies and summon a posse comitatus of the citizens, and that the President, may call out the Militia; the deputy Marshalls to receive $1 per day while on duty, and the citizens $27 and both liable (to'a fine of $100 for refusing or neglecting to serve.-The Joint Resolution in relation to Paraguay being taken up, the amendment proposing to strike out the words "and use such force," was adopted by a vote of 21 to 19, when on motion of Mr. Mason, the whole subject was laid on the table. The Bill repealing all bounties to Fishing yessels being taken up, was advocated at conelderable length by Mr. Clay, on the ground that the granting of these bounties was an obsolete and unjust policy. The Bill was finally postponed until to-day, when Mr. appearance of a genius, named Ben John-Hamlin, of Maine, is expected to reply to son, from Hamlin county, Missouri, in a Mr. Clay.
